Principal
Land Planner and Landscape
Architect

Jim is the Foley Group's principal and founder. Trained as a Landscape Architect and Land Use Planner (B.S.L.A.1985 - The Ohio State University School of Architecture), he leads the firm's site design, landscape architectural and land planning projects.

His specialized experience in site design and land planning have been developed through managing over 250 projects across Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and Colorado over the past 18 years. His diverse experience has established Jim as a leading authority on Ranch Master Planning, Conservation Subdivision Planning and Native Landscape/Site Design.

Jim is a registered Landscape Architect, a Member of the American Planning Association, an Associate Member of the Urban Land Institute, and holds CLARB Certification.

In recognition of his experience, former Montana Governor Marc Racicot appointed him as chairman of the Montana Landscape Architecture Registration Board in 1995.

Jim lives with his wife Cindy in Billings and avidly pursues sporting clays shooting, fly-fishing and upland bird hunting across the mountain states. Jim also takes special pride in his sporting clays course design, as well as native garden design and landscape restoration projects.
